Local Red Cross units celebrate first birthday

A year ago in May several Red Cross sewing groups in Arlington Heights joined forces and decided to meet every Thursday at the field house where they could sew and also carry on the production of surgical dressings.

On Thursday, May 11, they will celebrate the completion of a full year together. They will work as usual from ten to four, but will take a short time off at noon to have a little birthday party.

Each member has been asked to bring a "white elephant" wrapped as a present so that everyone will have a birthday gift.

Mrs. Robert Malcolm will sing. The canteen corps will serve a simple luncheon at noon and a general review of the year's work will be given.

MT. PROSPECT HOME FEATURED BY BETTER HOMES & GARDENS

Interior view of the home of Philip J. Robinsons, 420 We-Go Trail, Mt. Prospect. Lovers of antiques will recognize many of the choice pieces that grace the above living room. "Better Homes and Gardens" in its description of the above, in its May issue, says: "Here's the ideal curtaining of a picture window. The view brought right into the living room is framed by organically ruffled curtains and full chintz draperies that can be drawn close at night. Their colorful floral pattern is repeated in the wing-chair's slip cover."

Steaks, roasts only meat now rationed

The OPA had some good news Wednesday for the housewives of the nation. Meat rationing ended at midnight except for steaks and roasts. This means that 85 per cent of the meat is now point free. Canned meats and fish also require no points. The only food items that now require expenditure of red points are butter, margarine, cheese products and evaporated milk.

There is also to be a cut in the number of points issued. In the past 30 points were issued every two weeks. Hereafter the thirty points must last four weeks. The new point schedule is expected to continue four months.

No points are necessary for lard, shortening, salad and cooking oils. Butter substitutes are cut from six points to two.

Users of blue points received some good news. There are no points on canned corn, peas and tomatoes and asparagus.

Club Victory gets off to a flying start

The first meeting of the Club Victory Saturday night was a big success. Between the hours of 8 and 12:30 more than 200 students enjoyed games, ping pong, dancing to the Blue Notes, and refreshments. They were also entertained with a few skits and songs. Later in the evening Marian Hardke, now of Barrington, surprised them with several songs. The underclassmen are especially invited to attend these gatherings. The next one will be Friday, May 12. The club is to be the students' casual meeting place and will be there as long as they support it.

The committees wish to thank the chaperones, the Park Board and other people for their assistance in making their first meeting a success.

Arlington Lions near bowling champions

Arlington Heights Lions Club bowling team defeated Wauconda at Barrington, Sunday, April 23, by a margin of only 18 pins for a three-game series. In defeating Wauconda, the team now meets Evanston at Wilmette for the championship of this division. Sunday, May 7, is the date and all who can possibly make the trip are urged to be on hand to help them win the final game. The boys have done a grand job and deserve your support. First game at 2:30.

From milk to cereal

Lions club members may drink a lot of milk but it was not until Tuesday evening that some of them learned how milk got from "Bos" to their breakfast table. That evening the Lions club were entertained by a representative of Bowman Dairy Company. A moving picture was presented showing various means of transporting milk from the farms to the many sub-stations maintained by the Bowman Dairy Company. From there the milk is brought, by truck and rail, to the large receiving stations in Chicago. The contents of each can are tested for purity before it is permitted to go through the pasteurization process. After this, the milk is then ready for bottling. Following this operation the bottles are then put in wooden cases and packed with chipped ice and are then taken to the numerous trucks and wagons for delivery to the consumer. The picture also describes how butter, milk, cottage cheese and butter are made.

Boys win over girls in county spelling contest

Three boys, for the first time in the 30 years' history of the Cook county spelling contest, won the first three places and the gold, silver, and bronze medals Saturday in the council chamber of the Chicago city hall.

The first place winner was Donald Speer, 13, 8040 Long avenue, Skokie, who last year placed second in the final contest.

Second and third places went to Jack Richardson, 13, of 3205 Atlantic street, Franklin Park, who is in the eighth grade in District school 84 in Leyden township, and Joe Meek, 12, of 3950 Clausen avenue, Western Springs, who attends District school 101.

At the conclusion of the grading of the first set of words, Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, said that of the 28 contestants, only two had perfect papers. Nine others tied for third place, with five of them missing the word "rebuttal."

Park board secures caretaker; will not need sheep

It looked for a time that unless sheep were imported to keep down the grass, the parks within Arlington Heights would become hayfields. However, Emil O. Naske has taken the job of caretaker. While waiting for the grass to get sufficient length to cut he is painting the benches. Paint signs have been placed on the seats, but the signs might not all stay in place so the public is warned to first touch before sitting.

Tax bills here early next month

From present indications all country town taxpayers will have their bills by June 1st and possibly somewhat earlier.

The County Clerk is now determining the tax rates for the various taxing bodies and as soon as that job is completed the making out of the tax bills will start.

It is expected by County Clerk Flynn that all Chicago bills will be in the mail by June 7th and the country town bills are usually made out before the city bills.

The Country Town Collectors Association expects to meet next week with County Treasurer Victor L. Schaefer to go over the details of the collection.

So tax time will soon be here and all country town taxpayers are urged to make their payments to their home collectors.

It Happened Here

He was a familiar figure of our childhood, remembered, perhaps, for his striking appearance or for some characteristic appealing to a child; he was tall and slender, well groomed and always nattily dressed, his blue sack coat sorting well with his coloring, very red hair and eyes a deep sea blue. He lived in the large white house at the edge of the village and had no visible occupation but bustled himself about many things, having plenty of leisure and being humored because of his deafness and because his family was among the first settlers. He kept ponies, an unusual venture in our farming community, and his little adopted daughter drove around in a pony cart, to the envy of less fortunate children; he was notably fond of children and at Sunday School picnics busied himself to see that every child had a turn at the grand rope swing hung from the branches of the big elm. He put a cement drinking fountain in front of his place, an innovation which caused remark; we drove past it every time we entered the village and read the inscription: "Be Kind to Dumb Animals", but our comfortably cared for team never needed to stop for a drink and the trough was often empty, water having to be carried from the well; one of Doty's follies, our elders dismissed the matter; they had no use for anyone they considered something of a playboy. But even today the sons of those very farmers may be heard quoting Mr. Doty as saying: "This farming section with its variety of crops can never have a real famine, never an entire failure of all the crops."

A Lecture on Christian Science Entitled Christian Science: Scientific Mind-Healing by Will B. Davis, C. S. of Chicago, Illinois

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

Delivered under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Barrington, Illinois, in the Palatine High School Auditorium, Palatine, Illinois, Thursday evening, May 4, 1944 at 8 o'clock.

The lecturer spoke in part as follows:
Men and women down through the ages have vainly searched for a material solution of the manifold problems of human living. When material methods have failed to bring them lasting comfort and healing they have turned in earnest supplication to their highest sense of Deity. "Oh that I knew where I might find him!" has been the plaintive cry of the multitudes. But Jesus had promised "another Comforter," which he said would "abide . . . for ever." And he had called this Comforter "the Spirit of truth."

Those who have been healed in these present times by the ameliorative ministrations of Christian Science have not the slightest doubt that this prophecy of our great Master has been fulfilled. The forever Comforter has come to mankind through Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science.

This may seem a bold statement to one who has not studied the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," written by Mrs. Eddy, but anyone who will carefully study this book with a receptive and unprejudiced state of thought may learn to heal himself and others just as Jesus did. An honest investigation which casts aside all preconceived, critical attitudes, cannot possibly prove harmful. And after all, to accept the concept of God as ever present and all-powerful, and to feel that our problems are insurmountable is inconsistent, to say the least.

God governs man
In thinking of governmental affairs, may I call your attention to a verse in Isaiah, chapter 33, verse 22: "For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us." How beautifully this awakens us to the spiritual fact that in every division of our governmental system, God is supreme. "The Lord is our judge," supreme in judicial affairs; "the Lord is our lawgiver," governing all legislative activities; "the Lord is our king," the only director or power, supreme in the executive branches of government.

We know that God, Soul, divine consciousness, is beholding the perfect man constantly. We know that God is not conscious of discord, of evil of any sort. Therefore, as His ideas, let us conceive of man as he is; let us think in terms of the completely supplied spiritual likeness of the one omnipotent Mind. Let the male and female of God's creating appear to us as the only reality. Let us refuse to believe the foe, the evil, regardless of the disguise in which it seems to present itself.

If such inharmonies as war, lack dislocation, pain, misplacement, and injustice are actually true, through what mentality, consciousness, or mind did they come into being? Whether it is international or individual, we may rob the discord of its seeming continuity by refusing to give it a mind, an intelligence, or consciousness through which it could be produced. In proportion as we do this will sin, disease, war, fear, aggression, hate—all evil—disappear for lack of a mind through which they could be expressed.

Marian Babbitt to graduate from Smith May 16

Miss Marian Knight Babbitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben K. Babbitt of Sherwood, is a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the 67th commencement exercises of Smith College on May 16. Degrees will be awarded by Herbert J. Davis, president of the college, and the commencement address will be given by Captain Mildred H. McAfee, USNR, Commanding Officer of the WAVES.

Miss Babbitt prepared for college at Evanston high school, and majored in theater at Smith. In connection with her work in the theater, her extra-curricular interests lie principally in the dramatic association. She was made a full member of this group in her freshman year, and a member of the Council in the capacity of head of properties in her sophomore year. From there she was promoted to stage manager and was elected president and acting director for her senior year on the basis of a workshop production which she directed. The plays she has produced for college presentation this year have been "Cry Havoc" and "The Women."

Connected with her work in the theater but outside of the Dramatic Association was her membership in Vox Club, the honorary speech organization, of which she was vice-president her junior year. This year she was also in the cast of her class Rally Day show, given as part of Smith's annual celebration of Washington's Birthday. She was head of the lights committee for the show this spring.

In addition to her other honors achieved while in college, Miss Babbitt was a first group scholar or was on the Dean's List for distinguished scholarship her last three years in college. Marian won a $50 prize for directing the plays this year, plus an honor pin for "continued devotion to her work."

St. Peter Mothers club notes

The annual rummage sale by the Mothers Club of St. Peter Lutheran School will be held this week, Saturday, May 6, in the school basement from 9:30 to 6 p. m. The committee, under the direction of Mrs. L. Tubbs and Mrs. Al Meyer, ask that, if at all possible, donations be brought to the school on Friday morning. However, if you cannot bring them in the morning but could do so later on in the day it will be satisfactory. If you have no way of delivering your articles call 1518-M or 786-J and they will be called for. Anything in the line of household articles, furniture, clothing, etc., will be gladly accepted.

On Tuesday morning, May 16, the annual spring round-up will take place. Mothers are asked to bring their children to the school annex promptly at 9 a. m. as we all know how valuable the doctor's time is these days. Dr. Leckband and Dr. Dunn will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. Lund, community nurse, and a committee from the Mothers Club, consisting of Mrs. A. Blaschke, Mrs. G. Wilke, Mrs. Ed Meyer and Mrs. W. Rindischbacher. If parents so desire, a certificate from the family doctor and dentists will excuse the child from this examination. Any child examined last year for kindergarten need not be examined again this year before entering the first grade.

Hunsinger Barkh'r team wins soap box derby

The winners are Hunsinger and Barkhouser. Yes, these boys won the Soap Box Derby that was held last Sunday afternoon in Arlington Heights. The races were very exciting. Blackburn and Prellberg came in second and it was a very close finish. The twins Cooper and Cooper, came in third and the teamwork shown by the three winners was magnificent.

First prize was a baseball glove to each winner. Second prize was a baseball and bat and third prize was a scout knife to each member of the team. Consolation prizes of $1 per team were handed out to the heat winners.

Like any big race there were plenty of thrills. There was also an accident. The team of Nyman and Lenke had a crack-up. Fortunately outside of a skinned knee there was no serious injury. Chief Skoog assisted in removing the wrecked car and its occupants and then donated $1 to help defray the expense of repairs.

Although it rained in the morning the weather in the afternoon was ideal for the races. There was a large attendance and everyone enjoyed themselves. It is hoped that this will now be an annual affair of the Cub organization.

The executive committee and officers of the Cubs want to thank the judges for their cooperation and efficient manner in which the races were handled.

Mr. and Mrs. John Desch and daughters, Nancy and Barbara, have just returned from a ten-day trip to Nacogdoches, Texas, where they helped to close Mrs. Desch's mother's house. En route they visited Mrs. Desch's sister in Kirkwood, near St. Louis.

Employees are own gardeners at Rowles company

Private F. H. Sweet of Arlington Heights, now stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., former office manager of the E. W. A. Rowles Company in Arlington Heights, surprised the office gang Thursday when he walked in at the back door, punched the time clock and made the rounds of the plant pretending he had never left the place. He says he likes the army but would much rather be at home, and from remarks we heard made by some of the other Rowles employees, they will certainly be happy when he returns for good. They sort of feel as if the heart had gone out of the office.

Mr. Sweet found the gardens back of the factory which were first started three years ago by company workers seeded again. Onions, peas, potatoes, beets, lettuce and parsley are already in. There are 12 gardens—the average size is 40 by 70 feet. The noon hour furnished most of the time for their planting and cultivation. The ground was plowed by Mr. McDougall who works for the company. It is one of the most fertile tracts around the village.

The company itself is an interesting addition to Arlington Heights' enterprises. It moved here in 1940 from Chicago where it was founded in 1896, and its products include blackboards, erasers, window shades and educational blackboards. It fills many government contracts; its operators come from all over this area, and the vegetables from those gardens go to homes here as well as to Chicago and other suburbs of the city. Plants are started from seed in their private hot bed at the factory, and flowers for the beautiful grounds are begun there.

We understand, after talking of the work done at E. W. A. Rowles and the gardens here why Private Sweet misses that office and why the office wants him back as soon as possible.

'Breakfast at Sardi's' May 26

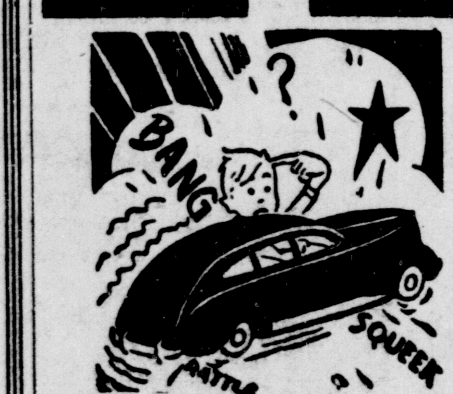

There are seven good reasons why you should plan to come to Arlington Heights' "Breakfast at Sardi's" on May 26, and here they are:

1. To hear your winning Good Neighbor letter read. (Have you sent in your description of a good neighbor you know? The contest is over May 20. Flowers go to the person praised in the best letter. (Mail letters to Mrs. Ken Milstead at 108 E. Euclid, Tel. 1454.)
 2. To watch and hear John Tyson on Chicago's WGN put on the program. (Bet you won't be able to tell it from the real WLS one. Listen to WLS today at 10 a. m. and come prepared to join the fun.)
 3. To receive an orchid (if you think that you have a chance of being the oldest lady there).
 4. Maybe you'll draw the wishing ring. Who knows?
 5. This is our own private reason for going—to wear a goofy hat. We've always wanted to, and we may get a prize for freeing a long suppressed desire.
 6. To hear Mrs. Frank Carr sing. If you've heard her you'll know why this is a good reason, and if you haven't, don't miss out on it any longer.
 7. After all, the tickets are only 50 cents. You'll have fruit juice and rolls and coffee, some unusual entertainment, and more than likely you'll walk off with a prize.
- The Women's Society of the Methodist Church is expecting at least 200 people. They hope you'll be one of them.

Entertains at birthday dinner

Mardie Carnecross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Carnecross of Skarsdale entertained eleven of her eighth grade friends at a six-thirty birthday dinner Saturday evening. The table was decorated with tall candles at each end and the birthday cake with fourteen candles on a high antique cake stand served as a centerpiece. The menu which included barbecued mushrooms with chicken a la king in patty shells, potato chips, fruit cups, salad and ice cream and cake, was an especially delicious one. After the dinner, the new game of "Whoopee" was played with Joy Hermsdorf capturing the grand prize.

Just Around the Corner

By ELEANOR MILSTEAD
(This is the second of a series of short sketches of Arlington Heights ministers)

A call so strong that it persisted through and over other insistent demands on his versatile mind was responsible for the decision of the Rev. William F. Kamphenkel of the St. John Evangelical Church here to become a minister. His father, one of the founders of the Excelsior Stove and Manufacturing Company in Quincy, Illinois, wanted him to go into business. He worked in the foundries of his father's factory, he worked in a paper mill, a shoe store, for a chaqueta, for a real estate firm, but from the time when he entered the Elmhurst Academy in Quincy at the age of 14 and began his pre-theological training there he knew he was to be a church leader. In this Junior college he received his A.B. (Bachelor of Arts) degree in 1916. His study centered about the implementing of Christian education and his thesis for his B.D. (Bachelor of Divinity) degree received in 1919 at the Eden Theological Seminary in Webster Groves, Missouri, was on Christian Education.

In July, 1919, Rev. Kamphenkel went to Bemidji, Minnesota, as an organizer of congregations along the Minnesota and International Railway between Brainerd and International Falls. He says, modestly, that he had "good success in starting new churches." It would seem so, when one learns that his first charge at Bemidji began with four children and eight adults and grew in two years to 250 with a Sunday school of 124 and a young people's choir of 22.

Rev. Kamphenkel's friends thought he was going into a wilderness when he went to Bemidji, but he found the "city of enterprise" to be full of friendly co-operative people, and he says that he shall never forget the great inspirations he received from the beautiful country surrounding the small city. Here he was asked to become director of boys' work, but he preferred to remain in the ministry.

The fine work which Rev. Kamphenkel did in Bemidji resulted in a call to St. Paul's Church in Duluth, Minnesota, where he stayed from February, 1921, to August, 1929.

In 1929 he went to Donaldson, Iowa, 58 miles from the home near Quincy where he had spent his childhood on the vegetable, fruit and poultry farm of his mother's father.

After a ten year ministry in Donaldson, during which time the first Mrs. Kamphenkel had passed away, Rev. Kamphenkel decided to act on a wish which he had had for several years to continue his theological studies at a university. In 1939 he and his small daughter Caroline went to Harvey, Illinois, to live with his brother. While studying at the University of Chicago he temporarily filled, in connection with his work there, the pastoral vacancy at the church in Homewood, Illinois.

The present Mrs. Kamphenkel was the superintendent of the church school in Monee, Illinois, and met Rev. Kamphenkel through their mutual interest in religious education, an interest which has been shared and developed through the years of their marriage. Mrs. Kamphenkel attended the Illinois State Normal University in Normal, Illinois. In 1941 the Kamphenkels came to Arlington Heights.

One of the things that makes Rev. Kamphenkel an unusually vivid person is his enthusiasm. And one of the chief objects of his enthusiasm, in the way of avocations or hobbies, is horticulture. There are hundreds of tulip bulbs, many rambling roses and other beautiful flowers in the parsonage yard that were not there before he came to Arlington Heights. He says that natural science could have lured him away from the ministry had he not been so certain of his destiny.

He likes wood carving, and he glories in recreational activities of all kinds. He feels that they contribute most to spiritual success, and that you cannot make good use of your hands and physical gifts without coming close to infinite good.

That Rev. Kamphenkel has a steadfast love of people and an unyielding belief in their progressive journey toward God, no one who talks with him for even a few moments can doubt.

Girl scout news

Members of Girl Scout Troop Number One are working on their first aid badges. Lorraine Menching earned her first class scout award on April 4.

Girls of Brownie Troop Number Two were hostesses for a mother and daughter tea on April 13. The girls made cookies, the table decorations, and set the table. They presented a program of songs, readings and poems. Some of the girls had made lamps of cotton in the form of pictures. The birthdays of Joyce Drewes and Janice Jannusch were celebrated. Teachers of the Lutheran School were the invited guests for ice cream and cake.

Mrs. Gilbert Wilke and Mrs. Belle Keiser assisted with the party and program. Mrs. Ed Childley is the troop leader and Mrs. Shirley Behrens is assistant leader.

American Legion auxiliary notes

Ninth District Director Mrs. Anna Kelly and Assistant Ninth District Director, Mrs. Fannie Harland, who is the Ninth District membership chairman, were the guests of honor and speakers on Mrs. Wisersky's membership program Tuesday evening. The auxiliary is now 100 per cent in membership. The work done by the unit was commended by both speakers.

Americanism Chairman Thelma Carroll reported that the awards for the essay contest would be presented during graduation week. The subject of the essays is "What I Owe America and What America Does for Me."

Lois Knaack is the high school junior recommended by a committee of high school teachers to be sent to "Girls' State" by Merle Guild Unit.

Mrs. Fannie May brought the quilt so that we might all see its soft loveliness and be spurred on to greater efforts in filling our books. The quilt will be given to the lucky person at the Legion Carnival in August.

A committee was appointed to meet with the committees from other organizations to arrange for the Fourth of July celebration.

To allow time for the guests to catch their train the president recessed the meeting for refreshments served by Hostesses Laura McElhose and Vi Rector. After bidding the guests goodbye, the meeting was reconvened and the revision chairman, Laura McElhose, read the constitution and by-laws. The revised articles were discussed and put to a vote. After finishing the business and paying the bills the meeting was adjourned.

Arlington Heights 'Bundles' news

Mrs. Carl John has been appointed chairman of the Arlington Heights unit of Bundles for America. The appointment was made by the Chicago headquarters of the national organization. Mrs. John succeeds Mrs. Robert Palmer, who has had to give up active work in the group on account of sickness. Other officers are Mrs. Vernon Curtis, co-chairman; Mrs. John Shanklin, secretary; Mrs. Nicholas Mayer, treasurer.

Mrs. John has named the following women as chairmen of the various activities carried on by the Arlington Heights unit: Mrs. William Forrest, ways and means; Mrs. Alex Engelking, knitting; Mrs. George Orth, layettes; Mrs. Eric Plontke, comfort kits; Mrs. Richard Frazier, membership; Mrs. Ernest Oegen, salvage; Mrs. Roy Davis, service pins; Mrs. Charles Foreman, press. Mrs. Plontke has also been appointed hostess for the year. Dozens of rompers for one-year-olds are now being made by all members of the organization. These are made from aprons and house dresses and from men's colored shirts that have good material in them but are no longer wearable. Any one having such materials on hand is urged to take it to the field house any Wednesday morning.

Vaughan hospital in Maywood has been "adopted" by Bundles for America. A drive is now on to collect books and magazines for the men recuperating from injuries received on the battle fronts in this war. Modern fiction and popular editions go over big with the boys in the hospital. Magazines, such as Reader's Digest, Life, Coronet are read avidly. Don't let these pile up on the library table and don't throw them away after you have read them. They will be gratefully received any Wednesday morning at the Field House. The only request from the hospital is that the magazines be of an issue not later than six months ago.

Herbert Ackley is recovering

The many friends of Herbert Ackley of Palatine, former Arlington Heights resident, will be happy to know that after an extremely critical illness and an operation at Aines Hospital in Chicago Mr. Ackley is well enough to talk of ishing again. His sister, Mrs. E. W. Fritz, says that the family were much relieved to see the oxygen tents and blood transfusions give way to a wheel chair and a courageous smile.

Another sister, Mrs. John Flodin of Burbank, Calif., is visiting the Fritzes and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Hickey of North Hollywood, is also in Arlington Heights.

May day...

Of all the days of the year, May Day most of all brings us a nostalgic longing for our childhood. Christmas, we gradually grow used to having relegated to the young ones. Its meaning has deepened and matured for us. Easter is either about bunnies, which we also long ago relinquished, or about a rebirth which stirs our spiritual thoughts and emotions. Thanksgiving has achieved adulthood for us as our birthdays passed.

But May Day! We can not see the bright little paper baskets filled with early flowers without a sharp longing for the times when we ourselves clumsily and lovingly pasted a square of wallpaper into a box, attached a handle, laid the sweet blossoms in and took them to our mother and our loves. The afternoon of this May Day in Arlington Heights was such a washed one after the morning's shower. The grass was so dazzling green, the leaves on the maple trees so nearly out, the apple tree foliage beginning to uncurl. The afternoon was so like a May Day should be. And in the evening the thunder clouds were so perfectly touched with the sunset.

May Day is the day we most want back from our earliest school days. It holds so much of the promise of life, so much of the recurrent miracle of spring. It stirs the gay little ghosts of all the yesterdays of frolic and tumbling and cavorting and will not let them sleep.

Birthday kids turn back clock to extend party

The 20 guests at 12-year-old Ila Miller's birthday party Saturday evening were having such a glorious time that to make it last a little longer some of them turned back the Miller clock an hour and a half and succeeded in prolonging the fun until 11 p. m. The ruse was discovered when several parents telephoned to see why their youngsters were not home.

Mrs. Gerald Morrissey who helped Mrs. Miller with the party, says it was worth turning all the clocks back for. It began with a scavenger hunt and ended with cakes, sandwiches, birthday cake, cup cakes and sundae. The next morning when Mrs. Miller went down to clear away the leftover food she found there wasn't any to clear.

Prizes for the jitterbugging, the scavenger hunt and individual entertainers were all cash and no one left the party without coins. The house was transformed with ferns and flowers into a spring garden and adults discovered that jitterbugging, while hilarious, is not at all uncontrolled. The decorations were left intact.

Wheeling home bureau discusses wall treatments

Thirty-three members and 18 guests of the Wheeling Home Bureau unit met Thursday, April 27, at the home of Mrs. Louis Kirchhoff on East Central Road. Mrs. N. K. Barr, who presented the major lesson, gave a complete and interesting talk on wall treatments in which she discussed such topics as factors to consider in choosing a wall treatment, the analysis of a room in determining specific choice, and types of finishes.

The minor lesson on public speaking, the first in a series of three to be part of Home Bureau programs, was given by Mrs. C. H. Mills. Her talk on overcoming complexes in speaking served as an inspiration and a challenge to her hearers to try to defeat their own individual difficulties.

400 view pictures at Arlington art exhibit

That the outstanding success of the Arlington Heights Art Exhibit held on April 30 will point the way to further ventures in this line in the future is the belief of those who saw the pictures at the Methodist Meeting House Sunday.

The collection of etchings, drawings and paintings were not only a success by virtue of their number (although over one-third of the fine pictures offered could not be used for lack of space) nor by reason of their high quality (which was noted by all the spectators) nor even by the fact that 400 people attended the exhibit, which was evaluated at $20,000.

There were two slightly more subtle aspects of the carefully planned and unusually well executed event. One was the very real thrill of appreciation with which the pictures were viewed. One could not overhear the remarks made about McCaughey's "Red Barn" or Mrs. Bussing's "Church at Roselle" or young Lawrence Ferneke's "Winter Scene," and for that matter about each of the pictures in the exhibit without realizing that discrimination was there, and that almost every person found his own few favorites and was considerably moved by them.

The other important by-product of the show was the discovery during the afternoon of innumerable other works of art which had not been included this year but which offer possibilities for next year's exhibit.

It is unthinkable any longer for art lovers of Arlington Heights to disregard the talent here, or to underestimate the beauty and value of village-owned collections.

Clyde Emrick, who had charge of the exhibit, was not altogether in accord with the general enthusiasm over its success. He felt that there were many people who should, if Arlington Heights is to achieve an ability to understand and love cultural things, have been at least present to appraise the affair. He was also sorry that more young people were not there. Granted that Mr. Emrick is right about these things, the consensus of opinion (and we talked to a fair sized representation of the crowd) is that the exhibit was not only a smash hit as something that deeply stirred those who saw it,

Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. Boeckh and Mrs. E. A. Brannen planned to son Robert have moved into the new Thursday with her two children at 604 S. Belmont formerly, James and George, for Galt, occupied by the John Grifos who, Ontario, Canada, for a three weeks have gone to Kansas City. They visit with her father. They'll go Boeckhs came from Irving Park if the mumps to which one of the Mrs. Boeckh is Dr. Herman Carr's children was exposed doesn't cancel the trip.

Release figures on all food supplies

U.S. and Canada eat at '35-'39

level, British at subsistence

The average United States or Canadian citizen fares better in the food supplies available to him than does the average British citizen. The average British citizen is receiving just enough food to maintain health and working efficiency, thanks in part to the large wartime increases in food shipments from the United States and Canada.

Pre-war diets of the three countries were very similar in nutritive value and in commodities eaten, although the United States had appreciably more dairy products, poultry, eggs and fruit than the United Kingdom and much more fruit and vegetables than Canada.

In Canada, the report states, food levels are very close to those in the United States, with civilian supplies of most foods in both countries at or above 1935-39 levels. In the United Kingdom, despite very large increases in food production, the reduction of imports has lowered civilian supplies of most foods sharply below 1935-39 levels.

Average supplies of most of the foods which consumers prefer—meats, poultry, eggs, butter, sugar and fruits—are now considerably lower in the United Kingdom than in the United States and Canada. To offset the difference, people in the United Kingdom eat more grain products, vegetables, potatoes and dairy products. On the whole, the United Kingdom diet is less attractive, less varied, and less convenient to prepare than that of the United States and Canada, the report states.

Available fats, carbohydrates and protein are somewhat greater in the United States and Canada than in the United Kingdom. In each country there has been a slight decline in the supply of carbohydrates and an increase in the supply of protein. In the United Kingdom, however, the protein increase is due entirely to the increased consumption of grain and other vegetable foods and has been accompanied by a material decline in the proportion of animal protein. In the United States the proportion has remained about the same, and in Canada, the proportion of animal protein has increased noticeably.

Per capita
Pounds per-capita supplies of various commodity groups available at retail in the three countries in 1943 were:

Milk and milk products (excluding butter)—U. S., 64; Canada, 64; United Kingdom, 49.

Meat supplies—U. S., 141; Canada, 134; United Kingdom, 107.

Poultry, fish and eggs (edible weight)—U. S., 28; Canada, 26; United Kingdom, 19.

Eggs (fresh equivalent)—U. S., 41; Canada, 38; United Kingdom, 23.

Butter and other fats—U. S., 45; Canada, 44; United Kingdom, 38.

Sugar and syrups—U. S., 84; Canada, 79; United Kingdom, 65.

Tomatoes and citrus fruits—U. S., 103; Canada, 62; United Kingdom, 23.

Other fruits—U. S., 104; Canada, 72; United Kingdom, 52.

Dried beans, lentils and nuts—U. S., 19; Canada, 12; United Kingdom, 6.

Grain products—U. S., 201; Canada, 215; United Kingdom, 247.

Leafy, green and yellow vegetables—U. S., 93; Canada, 43; United Kingdom, 133.

Other vegetables—U. S., 65; Canada, 33; United Kingdom, 64.

Addresses

Incorrect and insufficient addresses appear on 15 per cent of the more than 25 million pieces of mail sent each week to servicemen overseas. To assure prompt delivery, the address requires the rank, full name with middle initial, Army serial number, service organization and unit, APO number and the postmaster at the port of embarkation. Check with the address on the last letter, the Army advises.

The Bing Crosby film, "Going My Way," had its world premiere in New Guinea near an American hospital with an audience of American nurses and sick and wounded soldiers. A microphone was taken through the audience and the recordings made of individual opinions will be used when the film has its American premiere. Similar premieres are to be recorded in all war theaters where American troops are in action.

Vegetables

The green vegetable which is such an important part of any well-balanced meal is very likely to be asparagus these days. As shipments of asparagus from California have reached their peak, food stores in Chicago are now well supplied with this popular vegetable. Along with the asparagus, fairly large supplies of tomatoes are also being offered. These two items will add considerable color to any meal, to say nothing of their high nutritional value. Both asparagus and tomatoes are priced for at least occasional use by families on low cost budgets, while those on more liberal allowances will take frequent advantage of them.

Cabbage remains in moderate supply, along with a few other "old standbys" such as spinach, rutabagas and carrots. Head lettuce still is one of the best buys in salad vegetables, although much of the supply right now is not of the best quality and condition. Quite a lot of Florida celery is on hand, and prices are in the moderate to high range. Increasing supplies of dry onions from Texas are relieving the recent shortage of this item and prices are held down by ceilings. Irish potatoes continue plentiful, with Northern varieties priced at somewhat lower levels than the new crop, spuds coming from Florida, Texas and California.

From the standpoint of price and supply, oranges still are leading the parade of best buys in fruit. Grapefruit, however, also is a good buy, especially the smaller size whitehead kinds. Louisiana strawberries are offered at the larger food markets, but remain relatively high priced.

New cars

WPB says—many electrical and mechanical repair shops are not taking advantage of a WPB regulation to aid them in obtaining parts and materials for domestic appliances such as refrigerators, washing machines, radios, clocks, sewing machines, stoves, bicycles, lawn mowers and plumbing. . . . At present, there is no visible possibility of resumption of passenger car production until after the victory over either Germany or Japan.

OPA says—even though lard, shortening, and salad cooking oils have been made point free, retail meat dealers will still pay two red points and four cents per pound for all kitchen fats turned in. . . . Service men on furlough will receive sugar rations in units of one pound for each 36 meals or less that they eat at home, instead of one-quarter of a pound for each nine meals. . . . About 40,000 hand-wound surplus portable phonographs to be sold by the Government have been given specific maximum prices of $14.25 for model No. 64 special (with Swiss motor) and $12.75 for rebuilt model R (rebuilt with American motor). . . . Used and new typewriters in the hands of dealers are no longer rationed.

War town

You won't find Schenley, Pa., in the atlases or almanacs because there just aren't enough people living there, but that doesn't daunt this 20-home community's 165 residents. They are claiming for it the title of "Champion War Town, U.S.A." Despite its "rest-pocket" size, Schenley is one of the nation's largest producers of war alcohol, vitally needed for the synthetic rubber program, manufacture of smokeless gunpowder, medical supplies, for chemical warfare and other military requirements.

Since February, 1942, the town's single industry—the converted Jos. S. Finch & Company distillery—has turned out more than 11,000,000 gallons of 190-proof war alcohol—enough to provide the butadiene required to manufacture 2,750,000 synthetic rubber tires, or all the gunpowder needed to fire 44,000,000 three-inch anti-aircraft shells. The hamlet's entire adult male citizenry works in the sprawling 60-acre plant, and with its production facilities devoted 100 per cent to war output, these prideful citizens are calling Schenley, Pa., "the biggest, little war production in America."

Chemical trees

Joyce Kilmer's beautiful line that only God can make a tree is still a classic truth, but man has now learned to take a tree and make it over. One of the most unusual stories from the laboratories of American industry is the discovery by the du Pont Company of a way to give soft pine wood the strength and beauty of hard maple. Inexpensive and available chemicals are impregnated by pressure into hard woods that take nature a hundred years to grow. Color may also be imparted permanently throughout the wood so that light pine can take on the hues of cherry, the glamour of rosewood, or the depth of mahogany.

The significance of this development becomes evident when one realizes that there are now in the United States only about 50 types of wood in commercial use. With this new magic wand created by chemistry, it is said that 1,000 types of trees, for which at present no practical uses have been found, largely because of their softness, will be available to industry.

Bananas

Sixty per cent of the banana crop of the United Fruit Company had to be destroyed in the first quarter of 1944 due to lack of steamship transportation. . . . For the first time in their history, commercial banks have more than half of their assets invested in U. S. Government securities.

Sea duty

Men 26 years of age and over are needed especially during the next 10 weeks to be trained for service aboard merchant vessels, the War Shipping Administration announced. Physically fit, honorably discharged veterans and men classified 4-F or 1-C, 17½ years of age and over, will be accepted for training. Men with previous sea experience may apply for refresher courses, upgrade training or officer-candidate courses. Applicants may register at maritime service enrolling offices in major cities or inquire directly of the U. S. Maritime Service, War Shipping Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

Paratroopers

A Melbourne, Australia, newsman training with a parachute regiment learned that the paratrooper's greatest difficulty is to develop the will to keep on jumping. The newsman said that even after as many as six successful drops, some men found that they could not jump again.

Coffee

Coffee imports into the United States amounted to about 1,300,000 bags during the first two weeks of March—the largest movement in any two weeks since the quota year started last October.

Gas coupons

More than 90 per cent of American motorists have endorsed their gasoline coupons, OPA said in reporting the progress made in stamping out counterfeit and stolen gas coupons. Since January first, 926 counterfeiters, peddlers and persons who had robbed local boards were arrested, and 611 motorists who bought gasoline illegally lost their rations. Also, 20,061 filling stations had to turn in valid coupons to make good the illegal sale of more than four million gallons of gasoline, and 1,140 other stations were denied the right to buy or sell gasoline for periods varying up to the duration of the war.

Farm film

A two-reel technicolor and sound film, "Farm Garden," produced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is available for local groups and organizations interested in the fundamentals of farm and city gardening. The 20-minute film depicts planning, planting, cultivating and harvesting, and the control of garden pests and diseases. Persons interested may write the OWI Bureau of Motion Pictures, 1400 Pennsylvania avenue, N. W., Washington 25, D. C., or their State Extension Service, for the name of a local distributor from whom they may get the film.

Goggles

Things to come—Better pictures in either dim or bright light are predicted for post-war camera fans as a result of a new method of reducing light reflections in camera lenses reported by the American Optical Company. . . . A new kind of goggle fitted with plastic lenses of a deep red color and now being worn by thousands in the armed forces to adapt the men's eyes for exacting night duty, will be available after the war to truck and bus drivers and railroad men to aid night vision. . . . A fireproof plastic paint, now being used on slippery ship decks, for factory floors to eliminate the hazards of walking on wet and oily surfaces.

Truck tires

Small trucks delivering essential foods, laundry, drugs and medicinal supplies and dry-cleaning apparel, and trucks operated by medicinal or dental laboratories will be able to obtain new truck tires of eight or less ply and all sizes of new passenger tires, OPA announced. Delivery trucks for beverages, ice cream, retail stores, confections and tobacco products, heretofore ineligible for any tires, will now be able to get used passenger tires, used truck tires smaller than 7.50-20 and obsolete sizes of new passenger tires.

Casualties

Casualties of the U. S. Armed Forces from the outbreak of the war as reported by OWI April 20 were 189,309, including 43,808 dead, 70,948 wounded, 41,330 missing and 33,223 prisoners of war. . . . Consumers who buy Midwestern-produced coals now, while mines can supply it, will be able to get enough fuel to meet their requirements next winter. . . . WFA and WPB have indicated the desirability of using surplus potatoes in the production of ethyl alcohol, which is now used in producing synthetic rubber.

A Statement To Coal Users

The new regulations issued by the Solid Fuels Administration, effective April 1st, placed certain restrictions upon all coal dealers that will especially affect all users of the scarcer fuels. The term "scarce" fuels are those which require a longer freight haul than coal that is mined in Illinois or possibly Indiana. Scarce fuels for this area happen to be the better grades of fuels. Every dealer is limited and he can not deliver before October 1st to any customer using the scarcer fuels more than 75 per cent of his year's needs. The fuel administration expects the consumer to either cut down the amount of coal consumed or use the more plentiful kinds of coal for the remaining 25 per cent.

Your dealer does not like the new regulation any more than you do. He and you must make the best of the present situation. The dealer will endeavor to get every possible ton of coal for his customers but first wants to know exactly when his customers need. He asks:

1st

Order your next winter's supply of coal at once from your regular dealer.

2nd

Be prepared to accept a substitute for 25 per cent of your needs.

3rd

Have confidence in your dealer. He will fight for you to get the coal you need. He will get it into your bin as soon as possible.

4th

Remember that your dealer cannot in fairness to his customers give you more than your proportionate share of coal that is available.

Under the circumstances, the foregoing plan of pro-rating next winter's fuel supply to home consumers is considered by the fuel administration a fair way to assure each fuel user his basic needs. Its success will depend on the cooperation of the public. The Solid Fuels Administration sums up the situation in the following statement:

"If retail dealers and consumers cooperate with one another and SFAW in the early delivery of the alternative and less scarce solid fuels and if the utmost conservation is practiced by consumers, it is estimated that there will be sufficient usable coal of one kind or another for everyone. The responsibility of dealers under this regulation is to spread their available supply equitably among all customers; the responsibility of consumers under this regulation is to refrain from duplicating or inflating their orders for coal and to conserve their fuel supply; it is the responsibility of both the retail dealers and the consumers to obey all provisions of this regulation."

Marines graduating from this school will be assigned to infantry battalions and their training has prepared them for amphibious landings and the establishing and securing beachheads.

Private Sturgis, born August 29, 1914, at Albion, Pennsylvania, was graduated in 1929 from St. Mary's High School, Stockton, California, where he was active in sports and dramatics. He was employed as cargo Tribune before enlisting in the Marine Corps January 12, 1944, at Chicago.

Bougainville Bath

After a long tour of duty on the jungle fighting front, this U. S. Marine and his Devil Dog take a well-earned bath on Bougainville. The dog, a Doberman Pinscher, seems to be wondering what will happen next.

Pennsylvania

Now at Greenville, Pa., is Ralph Nabel of Arlington Heights. Ralph stopped off at home on a week's delay en route from Tonkawa prison camp in Oklahoma.

"Spent over a year guarding German prisoners at Tonkawa and found none of them to have a defeatist attitude. They seem to know the war is over for them."

but make no predictions about how the war will end. They don't seem to care who wins, just want the war to be over as soon as possible.

"Many of them haven't seen their wives and children for at least two years, and want to get home to see them. They know their homes are being bombed and continually wonder whether their loved ones were among the casualties. Many times their letters are returned to them marked 'unclaimed,' leaving a big question as to why unclaimed."

"The government is adhering strictly to the Geneva rules for prisoners of war. Each compound has its own PX, where the men can buy any American confections (candy, gum, coca-cola, etc.), they wish. They get numerous letters and packages from the German government. Packets of food are unnecessary, however, as the prisoners get anything they want right in camp."

"Every compound has its initial issue of free athletic equipment of baseballs, basketball, soccer balls, ping pong tables and

LOK is all we can say about Herbert Henderson of Bensenville.

"I wish to take this opportunity to pay a tribute to the DuPage County Register. To read this paper and read of people you know and about places you've been, means a lot more than words can say."

"You know, a soldier's life is a lonely one. It isn't easy for a man to change over from a civilian to a soldier. To help the lonely soldier, however, mail and the home town newspaper is a godsend."

"We in the service can only hope for the future. An old adage tells the story. When you're in the air you'll either be flying straight or turning over. If straight, you have no cause to worry. If turning over, one of two things can happen. Either you fall or right the plane. If you right the plane, you have no cause to worry. If you fall, you will either be injured slightly or injured seriously. If slightly, there is no cause for worry. If seriously, either you live or you die. If you live, there is no cause for worry. If you die, you can't worry."

"One thing I noticed about the prisoners is their unusual ability with their hands. Many of them can carve small models of airplanes, ships, etc., with just a razor, and put in extraordinary detail in these carvings. They all show a great aptitude for anything mechanical."

Ralph has gone to Pennsylvania for the time being, but expects to be shipped out very soon. His address is S-Sgt. Ralph Nabel, ASF Pers Repl Dep, Camp Reynolds, Greenville, Pa.

Texas

A large new group of "trigger men" for the big guns of the AAF now blasting the invasion routes was graduated from Childress Army Air Field, Childress, Texas, Flying Training Command bombardier-navigation school Monday. Among those who won silver bombardier wings, after 18 weeks of intensive training, at Monday's ceremony here was Stephen J. Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mueller of Arlington Heights. He is now a second lieutenant.

In those four and one-half months, jam-packed with study on the ground and in the air, the handpicked youths became "the most dangerous men in the world" — to the enemy — armed with the nation's deadliest precision weapon, the American bombsight. Flying on day and night practice missions, they developed into expert bombing marksmen.

Trained in dead-reckoning navigation, in addition to the science of aerial bombardment, the new "Hell from Heaven Men" are prepared to navigate a mission to enemy targets, as well as aim and drop blockbusters on them. They are skilled, too, in aerial gunnery; familiar with aerial reconnaissance photographs of enemy installations, with camouflage and with enemy aircraft identity.

Climaxing their training with maneuvers at prairie bases simulating actual combat conditions, they took rugged samples of what they will soon experience: fusing, loading and racking their own bombs, living on concentrated rations, bunking in pup tents and underground shelters.

The new bombardier-navigators are now ready to take their places with the AAF's crack precision bombing teams, key men in the aerial assault on Axis strongholds over the globe.

England

Now in England is Harold Vetter of Arlington Heights. His address is Cpl. H. J. Vetter, 36644982, APO 141, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

California

Home on furlough from a camp in California is G. R. Baxter of Arlington Heights.

Kentucky

Alex and Conrad Stoppel of Arlington Heights are pictured above when they were home over the Easter holidays. Alex, the army man, is stationed at Breckenridge, Kentucky, while Conrad's home port is San Francisco. Conrad brought his wife home from Southgate, Calif.

The Saturday after Easter a bridal shower was given in honor of the bride by her mother-in-law, Mrs. M. Stoppel at her home.

Over forty guests enjoyed the delicious food served and played buncos at the shower, which also turned out to be a surprise birthday party for Alex.

Evanston

From Evanston this week comes word from Jack Kunze of Palatine.

"I'd like to take this opportunity to thank you and the Legion Auxiliary for sending the Enterprise. I appreciate it very much and look forward to its arrival each week. If those of us close to home appreciate it as much as we do, I'm sure the boys overseas must be grateful for it, indeed."

His address is Jack E. Kunze, AS USNR, Brks. 19, V-12 Unit, Evanston, Illinois.

India

From India this week comes word of Howard Freeman of Palatine.

"Just a short note to say I am feeling fine, though I have lost some weight. We have gone thru an awful lot recently, and, for a time, didn't have much to eat and very little water. Not even enough of the latter to wash good. Also, very little sleep."

"But we still managed our equipment. We didn't have much but what we did have, we used to advantage."

"Best thing of our arrival here was the amount of mail. I received 30 letters, plus three more the next day."

"Boy, did that mail look good. We were all like a bunch of kids at Christmas time."

His address is Sgt. Howard J. Freeman, 36311688, APO 467, c/o P. M., New York.

From India comes word of Henry Hajek of Palatine.

"There are many different kinds of people here in India, though they are mostly Hindus or Mohammedans. A couple of weeks ago the Hindus celebrated Christmas. Most of them quit work for the day. They got some colored water and splashed it all over themselves. The water was all different colors. They then sang and danced."

"They wear very few clothes here in India, most of them just wrapping a towel around themselves. The two groups don't mix very well, usually fighting on the spot."

His address is Pvt. H. Hajek, 36657615, APO 689, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

The 12th annual Palatine relays were in many ways the best meet to date. In the first place the weather was ideal. The track was in the best shape it ever has been due to Bill Rossiter's gym classes. The attendance of spectators set a record and the officials in charge of running the meet completed it in record time. One of the usual criticisms of track meets is that they are slow, long drawn out affairs. That was not true Saturday when Robert Ballard, the starter, and his chief assistants Earl Stutzman, Howard Stinson, and Hale Hildebrandt lined the boys up in heats and got the races under way without a break. The meet lasted just two and one-half hours with 24 races on the program.

Lakers disappointed

Crystal Lake was disappointed just as they have been several years in the past. According to Coach Metcalf the Tigers never seem to be in form in April and never have done well in the Palatine Relays. It is hard to explain. Sickness again this year cut into the Lakers' ranks. On the other hand, Lake Forest always seems to be in peak form at the relays. Last year Coach Lindemeyer's team was second by two points. One year they lost the meet only because their winning relay team was disqualified in the final event for a foul. Lake Forest was long overdue as a winner and took Saturday's meet in no uncertain manner.

Local monopoly ended

Two monopolies ended Saturday. Palatine had won the "B" class two mile relay all four years it had been on the program. Saturday Bensenville was the victor. Arlington had taken the low hurdle shuttle three years straight but did not score in their specialty this year as Belvidere won the event.

Have trophies after all

Due to an error the order for banners for the winning teams never was sent to the factory so Palatine authorities were faced with no team awards to give out and two days until the meet. Lowe and Campbell sent out two very fine trophies costing a total of $10 more than the banners and we accepted them and are glad we did as the Palatine Relays showed a profit this year of approximately $20 in spite of this extra expense.

Congratulations, Coach Trapp

Bensenville's victory was very popular with us. We have always wanted Bensenville to be on top if Palatine could not and that is just what happened this year. Congratulations, Coach Trapp, on a fine group of competitors. Looks like your next conquest will be the Northwest Conference meet. We will try to give you more competi-

Bisons, Lake Forest win Palatine Relays

Palatine fifth, Arlington sixth, 16 participate

Two schools which had annually been among the leaders but had never won the championship came through in the Palatine Relays Saturday. Lake Forest outdistanced strong field in class "A" while Bensenville came from behind in the last two events to cop class "B" away from Geneva.

Only one record was broken in the meet when Geneva's Frosh-Soph 440 yard relay team composed of the Lencioni brothers, Accairi, and Dunn reduced a former mark of 34.9 down to 34.4. West Chicago, holder of the former record, also broke the old mark in placing second in 34.6. Barrington was third in 34.8.

Bensenville's 11 man squad won the meet by scoring first in the two mile relay, mile medley relay, and pole vault; second in the 880 yard relay, mile run, and broad jump, and fifth in the frosh-soph relay and shot put.

George Kernats scored 9 1/2 points to lead the Bisons, followed by Bowman 6 1/2, Corrado 5, Hall 5, Vener 5, Marden 4 1/2, Anderson 4 1/2, Garland 2 1/2, Erth 1 1/2, and Johnson 1 1/2. Fine individual performances were a 2:08 half by Hall in the two mile relay, a 4:53 mile by Bowman in winning second, a 3:55 quarter mile by Vener in the medley relay, Corrado's 10 foot winning vault, and Kernats a close second in the broad jump with 19' 2".

Lake Forest won the frosh-soph relay and high hurdle shuttle; took second in the two mile relay, low hurdle shuttle, 100 yard dash, and discus throw; third in the medley relay and pole vault, and won fourth in the 880 yard relay and the shot put. Coach Ed Lindemeyer's team was the best balanced squad of any in the meet and far outdistanced other members of the Northeast Conference.

Bender and delarrette, who placed first and third in the 100 yard dash, paced Belvidere's second place team in class "A." Belvidere won the medley and low hurdle relays and was second in the 880 yard relay and third in the Frosh-Soph.

Sixteen schools, the same number as last year, attended the 12th running of the meet and the weather was ideal as has been the case for the past six or eight years on the last Saturday in April. The largest crowd of spectators in the history of the meet was in attendance Saturday.

Arlington, defending champion in class "A," and Palatine, the three time "B" class winner, made rather weak defense of their titles. Arlington got fourth in the high hurdle shuttle, and medley relay; a fifth in the 880 relay, and Miller's tie for third in the high jump, for a total of 11 1/2 points.

Palatine took second in the two mile relay with Hapke, Henker Linnehan and Goodwin turning in better than Palatine made last year in winning the event. Palatine also got a fourth in the medley relay, a fourth in the 880 yard relay with R. Smith, Kreile, Muehlert and Arent did the team. The frosh-soph team ran the 440 in :49 which was better than last year's team did in winning third. Clarence Herr tied for third in the high jump.

The shot put, won by Harry Jagade of Leyden with a toss of 46' 16", was the only field event that was up to par. The relays on the average produced good marks. One of the best non-record breaking marks was Belvidere's 3:52 in the mile medley relay. Another was Libertyville's 1:37.1 in the 880 yard relay in which Olsen, Boyer, Weisbach and Lennartz did the running.

Geneva surprised in class "B" with a fine performance. Geneva was a well balanced team but lacked the strength to cop any first places and they got only one second. However Geneva placed in eight different events and finished well ahead of West Chicago who was the pre-meet favorite along with Bensenville.

Pirates schedule 3 duals in 6 days

Palatine has a tough schedule of dual meets in the next week. Tonight (Thursday) the Pirates meet Barrington on Ost Field in a dual encounter. Monday, May 8, they are host to Arlington and two days later, on Wednesday, May 10, Palatine travels to Bensenville to see what can be done about that one point decision lost earlier in the year.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

April 30, 1944.

Dear Eleanor:

Do you recall Francis Hackett's book, "I Chose Denmark"? I think I remember that you enjoyed it every bit as much as I did.

It was in this book he said, "As I think over the Danes, the fact that they are unassuming is perhaps their greatest charm for me. The world at present is noisy with the assuming. But to speak of modesty is dangerous. Just as the world is fooled by self-assumption, it is fooled by false modesty, and that is the last thing of which the Danes can be accused. The Danes are not quiet out of a sense of disproportion. Nor are they modest, as a rule, because they have learned to see themselves in proportion to other people."

These words came into my mind yesterday as I listened to that great Metropolitan Opera star, Lauritz Melchior, address a meeting of the American-Scandinavian Foundation at the Kungholm Restaurant on Rush Street.

He is a massive person, as you probably know, a truly "Great Dane." He speaks excellent English, but that, of course, is not unusual, as all Danish children must begin the study of the English language as well as their own, immediately upon entering school. Since they are inveterate travelers, the Danes are fine linguists.

Like many large people, Mr. Melchior does not give one the feeling of an over-powering strength, but rather, his is an attitude of protectiveness, coupled with humbleness and simplicity. He stood at the entrance of the theatre after lunch, to shake the hand of every one of us who entered! (This theatre, by the way, is a private one located on the top floor of that grand old Chicago mansion which is now owned by the proprietor of the Kungholm).

After we were seated in the theatre, the president of the Chicago chapter of the Foundation, told us a little about Mr. Melchior's early life. How he began his musical career as a boy-soprano in a church choir, and how he went on to study with some of the great teachers in Europe, eventually developing into the foremost Wagnerian singer of our age. In presenting Mr. Melchior to us, he laughingly remarked that he thought Mr. Melchior looked as if he appreciated all the "good things" in life. He mentioned good food, old wine, etc. He had previously spoken of the singer's beautiful wife (who was also present), so when it was time for Mr. Melchior to begin his talk, his opening remark was something to the effect that he had been pestered as a person who, no doubt, "loved wine, woman and song!"

He spoke feelingly of the North countries, of their association with one another, of the distress that is now upon them, and their gratefulness to the United States in her assistance to them. He was very particular in getting across to us that they ARE "little" countries, but that they DID have much to offer the rest of the world. He spoke of the hospitality of Denmark, and expressed a wish that after Peace has come again, we here in America will go to his country to see and feel the spirit of that "land of simple" people. He said that "feeling" is a thing that must be absorbed in order to be understood.

When his talk was over, we listened to records of his superb voice played over an amplifier, while we watched the showing of colored movie films that Mr. Melchior had taken of Denmark for the National Geographic Magazine.

To say that these pictures are lovely would be a gross understatement. They are positively beautiful! I would like to write you in detail about everything I saw, but that would take much too long. I think the scenes I enjoyed the most were the rural ones, in which we saw the immaculately kept village and farm houses, with their abundance of flowers. The settings in some instances have a medieval air about them, with a stream of water and a moat surrounding them, as in even the less pretentious homes, as well as the ancient castles. On the rooftops of the farm houses, likewise many of the homes in the villages, were to be seen white storks flying to and from their nests on the chimney tops.

We saw the interior of the famous Georg Jensen silver factory, where a close-up had been taken of silversmith producing one of the factory's magnificent works of art. A statement flashed on the screen read that Georg Jensen is the greatest silver artist the world

Shutout ball wins two games for Arlington

Dick Bokelman pitches 2-hit game vs. Warren

by EARL JOYNER

With two-hit pitching by Dick Bokelman, 15 hits by the 9 starters, and some 12 errors by Warren, the Cards had little difficulty in taking their first conference game of the season, 11-0. Bokelman himself became imbued with the hitting spirit and clubbed out a double and a single. All but one of the nine starters got at least one hit. A total of 10 Cards, however, were left stranded on the bases.

Hitting honors this week go to Jack Thompson, a boy who is always trying and who has finally loosened up to the point where he is pounding the ball for plenty of distance. Jack got Bokelman into a little trouble in the opening inning by being a little over-anxious on a bunt that was laid down by a Warren boy with a man on first and no outs. Bokelman struck out the next two batters, hit the next on the leg to fill the bag, but got the last one by the trikeout method, the last one by the strikeout method. After this initial outburst only two Warren boys reached second.

Thompson's slugging consisted of one long triple over the center fielder's head and two doubles. He was safe on an error in the third and struck out in the sixth. Doubles were also hit by Kohler, Gaere and Bokelman.

Bokelman's 15 strike-outs left little work to be done by the fielders. The Cards getting only 4 assists. The best play of the game occurred in the 5th inning when Robinson picked up Eismann's grounder and fired it to Griffith at second to get Clark; Griffith then relayed the ball to Kohler to get Eismann thus completing the first double-play of the season.

Italy

From Italy comes word of Cliff Wente of Palatine.

"A few of our outfit were fortunate enough to get a three day pass over Easter and enjoyed a trip to Naples, at which time we saw Vesuvius and Pompeii. They told us all about it, though some of us had already seen it."

"We have a nice Red Cross service club here now, and in the near future will have a snack bar in connection with it. We also have a day room for men of our company in which there is a ping pong table. We have a badminton court and a baseball diamond, and challenge other outfits several times each week. Special service has a show for us all three nights a week, too. All in all, it's a pretty nice place."

"Have received several Palatine papers lately and can't thank the Legion Auxiliary for making it possible for us to get them. They are a great morale builder. Am in the best of health and looking forward to the time when this is over and I can return to civilian life."

His address is Sgt. C. J. Wente, 36622287, APO 520, c/o P.M., New York, N. Y.

Writing from Italy this week is Lawrence Koch of East Maine. He was just recently made a corporal technician.

"Everything still going swell with both me and my command car, the 'East Mainer,' is still in existence and running strong."

Hawaii

From Hawaii comes word of Wilbur McManaway of Mt. Prospect.

"The people on this island are mostly Chinese. There are a few Filipinos and some Hawaiians. Main crop is sugarcane and pineapple. That's about all they raise. The ground is red soil. Size of the island is only about 50 miles in circumference, but gives us plenty of room for training."

"I am a second gunner on a machine gun. Hope I get some mail from some of my friends." His address is Pfc. Wilbur Wade McManaway, 36377425, APO 33, c/o P.M., San Francisco, Calif.

We're not sure but we're putting Anthony Bodor of Arlington Heights in Hawaii.

"It sure was swell of the people of Arlington Heights to make me the recipient of the traveling bank. Thanks a lot."

"Met Mel Laseke here recently and had quite a talk with him. We were both surprised to see each other. It was the first time I had seen Mel since three years ago at home."

His address is Pfc. Anthony M. Bodor, 16169246, APO 962, c/o P.M., San Francisco, Calif.

Maritime service opens seamen
training to 'over 26'

"Immediate openings in quotas for U. S. Maritime Service training for men over 26 have developed as a result of the new draft regulations," Lt. R. T. Sexton, maritime service regional enrolling officer, 844 Rush street, Chicago, said today. "Apprentice seamen recruiting has been thrown wide open in the Chicago area. We urgently and especially need men to train to sail as deck and engine seamen and cooks aboard merchant ships."

"Waiting time between original interview and transfer to a training station has been reduced to one week. Qualified applicants are sworn into the Maritime Service as apprentice seamen and transportation furnished to the east coast. During training the men receive uniforms, quarters and meals in addition to base pay," Lt. Sexton explained.

Besides base pay, merchant seamen receive bonuses for voyages in foreign waters, meals and quarters while at sea. With three months sea time they are automatically eligible for "upgrading" or advanced training by the Maritime Service.

Interested applicants should call immediately at the U. S. Maritime Service, room 515, 844 N. Rush St., Chicago.

No. Carolina

Pvt. Leif Maseng of Mt. Prospect arrived home April 25 from Fort Bragg, N. C. He reports back there May 8.

Idaho

Arthur E. Gusch of Mt. Prospect is at home on a 15 day furlough. He has completed his "boot" training at Farragut, Idaho, the second largest camp in the Navy.

Art says the scenery at Farragut is wonderful, but it's too far from home. He thinks the food is fine. There is apricot pie every day, and beans are served very often, too. Art happens to like both. When his furlough ends and does not know where he will be sent from there. His present address is Seaman Second Class, Farragut, Idaho.

From Farragut, Idaho, comes word of S2/c Dale Hooson of Palatine. Dale has been chosen one of 35 men to receive officers' training. This deprived him of a ten-day furlough but is well worth it, according to Dale.

Africa

Now in North Africa is Glen Grewe, former Arlington Heights man. Glen went into service in October of 1942. He is the son of George Grewe. His present address is Lt. Glen Grewe, 0-810648, APO 650 c-o P. M., New York, N. Y.

Texas

Steve Mueller, Schoenbeck road, Prospect Heights, is home on furlough. Steve will be home until the 16th. He is home on his first furlough in over a year, and was stationed at Camp Chidress, Tex., where he is a navigator-bombardier on a B24.

New York

Writing from Sampson, New York, is Lt. C. E. Hill, former dentist in Arlington Heights.

"Will write a few lines to have my address changed. I've received the paper regularly, generally on Saturday. It's like getting a letter from home."

"I enjoy the Naval life very much. Being short of dental officers, we have more work than we can take care of. I've completed over five thousand operations in eight months of duty. My days are spent in surgery and I work very hard as I run over one hundred extractions per day. "I move into prosthetics (denture work) this week. Will spend the rest of my duty here in this work, which I look forward to as I will learn much that's new."

"I have an apartment on the Center now so my family is with me."

Army chaplain has no 'life of ease' in service

Rev. Harry E. Fricke, pastor of St. Peter Lutheran congregation, Arlington Heights, discovered soon after his entrance into the Army that there would be little time for him to write those promised weekly letters to his congregation. Two such letters have recently been included in the church bulletin, and Paddock Publications has been permitted to publish a few extracts that give an insight into the life and duties of a chaplain.

There is nothing in his letters regarding the life of the German prisoners for whom Rev. Fricke is conducting in their language several regular classes. While he was home ten days ago he was as reticent about talking about the prisoners as he is about writing about them. He said, "I have discovered that I may write for publication rather freely about the life of the American soldier but I am decidedly limited in my description of the prisoner soldiers interned here. Military regulations require that all addresses and writing on P.W. camps be cleared thru Washington."

"One of the unusual features of this post is the dog training unit, shared by the Army and the Coast Guards. I saw many of the kennels, housing Dobermanns, German Shepherds (police dogs), Dalmatians, Collies and just plain mongrels—all being trained for war purposes. The dogs get an eight weeks course in charging, watching, and then are sent to their job. I wouldn't want to walk at night between the kennels of these dogs of war.

"Besides the prisoners I am also the moral and religious guide of our American men, guarding the Germans. That part of my job really lies closest to my heart, because as you know I got into the army to keep faith and ideals alive in their hearts. Just a brief acquaintance with conditions impressed upon me how much they need a pastor to keep them stable and firm in the stress of army life.

"I'm the first resident camp pastor, living among them and sharing their life, which is plenty arduous and boring. Ask any soldier how he would like to stand guard for 24 hours and then after a 24 hour break to go on post again and hear what he has to say. When these men have some hours of free time, their inclination is to spend it in fun and frolic. It isn't easy to interest some of them in such intangible things as their souls and the spiritual satisfactions of religion. But that is my task. Somehow I must reach the souls of these men. Somehow I must convince them that the worship of God is necessary for their well being and that the deepest satisfactions are spiritual rather than material.

"By request of the Mission Board of this district I am serving two civilian congregations at Crawford and at Harrison, which means two more sermons every Sunday. Thus, you see, I am preaching four times each week. Add to this all the interviews with enlisted men, consultations of various kinds, requests of every description from prisoners of war, religious publicity and innumerable letters, directing the P.W. school and teaching, and you realize that I have a full day.

"In the hope of getting closer to the men, I am now accompanying them on their weekly hikes. Imagine me all fitted out with a pack, gas mask, canteen, ammunition belt, leggings, and helmet, trotting along with the men on a ten mile hike and even doing double time. Last Friday they really put me to the test. I have a sneaking feeling that they were deliberately trying to wear down the chaplain. But I wouldn't give them that satisfaction. Even tho I didn't return as fresh as a daisy, I wasn't any more wilted than most of them."

Gilberts

From the Gilbert Islands this week comes word of Tony Scolaro of Arlington Heights.

"As you no doubt know we are located on one of the Gilbert Islands. It is one of the most beautiful places I have ever seen. You can sit under a coconut palm tree, look out to sea, and get a good glimpse of the coral reef, surrounding the island, and the blue Pacific water breaking in white foam as it crosses the bar.

"The natives on this island are very friendly. They are also excellent workers. The men work on some of our cleanup gangs and the women do our laundry. It's a very good set-up. I have had the good fortune to attend most of their spiritual services. They are all sung or chanted by the natives and are impressive and beautiful.

"I have quite a few souvenirs and hope to send them home as soon as I can find a cardboard box. Have been looking for one for over a week, now. I have purchased the souvenirs with 'larama,' which means three yard bolts of the brightest red cloth one can find in a 5 and 10 cent store.

"We were invited to a native song and dance festival some time ago. It was an impressive program and lasted three hours. The harmony of the singers was beautiful — never heard such in all my life. They also put on a good wrestling show for which all contestants were awarded prizes of oranges and apples."

His address is Lt. A. T. Scolaro, 0-579168, APO 212, c/o P. M., San Francisco, Cal.

Great Lakes

Donald Winkelman of Mt. Prospect is at Great Lakes receiving his boot training. His mother has received some very enthusiastic letters about the navy. Don has lost 13 pounds since he went into service, but feels he can afford to lose them.

Although he has been in service just a short time, Don has been selected as a color guard. His ability and hobby of pen and ink sketching has won him the job of drawing and painting posters for his company.

His address is AS Co 308 USNTPS, Great Lakes.

Charles Joel Loomis, 26, husband of Adeline Runge Loomis, RFD Church and 2nd avenue, Bensenville, is receiving his initial naval indoctrination at the US Naval Training Center, Great Lakes.

His "boot" training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill, and general naval procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the recruit to determine whether he will be assigned to a Naval Service School or to immediate active duty at sea.

Kansas

Now at Camp Phillips, Kansas, is Leo Specht of Arlington Heights.

"Just a line to let you know I am now in Camp Phillips, Kansas, and hope to be leaving for overseas duty soon. Also wish to say hello to all the folks at home. How about some mail?"

His address is Pvt. Leo E. Specht, Co. H, 114 Inf., APO 44 Div., Camp Phillips, Kansas.

Bob Busse of Mt. Prospect, recently at home on a furlough, is now located in Garden City, Kansas. It is probable that he will receive his basic training there and then be sent to Northwestern Flying school.

His new address is Hq.-Sq. 49 B S T G, Garden City, Kansas, AAF.

Marshall

From somewhere in the Marshall Islands comes this letter from Eugene Robert Alsdorf, Store-keeper 3rd class, of Wheeling.

"There isn't much that I can say regarding what we are doing. We get the best possible food to eat. Our daily routine is full, there is never a dull moment which is a wonderful thing. We all do the best we can, trying to help each other when the opportunity time arrives. A movie is shown every night and we get our quota of beer every so often. The temperature during the day is very warm but at night it's more than wonderful. The ocean is a swell place to swim. We have a special sport on our island. The fellows fill their mattress cover with air and tie up the end. Then they ride the waves into shore astride the mattress cover. It's great sport. We also collect pretty coral shells not found on U. S. coasts. I think every man in the service appreciates what the folks in the States are doing towards the war effort. Everyone is doing their best to bring the war to an end as soon as possible. Keep up the good work. Give my best regards to the town of Wheeling."

His address is Eugene R. Alsdorf, S-K 3rd class, U. S. Gropac 2, Navy 824, c/o Fleet P. O., San Francisco.

Nevada

Gail Petersen of Arlington Heights left Saturday for his new station at Las Vegas, Nevada. He had been stationed at Camp Beale, California, prior to his furlough. Gail is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Petersen. They entertained a family group last Friday with Gail as guest of honor. Gail's wife is living in Elmhurst.

England

From England comes word of Capt. L. B. Lee of Mt. Prospect. "I know this is a rather late date to be extending my appreciation and thanks to you for your grand service in running the 'Service' pages in the Herald and in making them available to all of us in the various services, but I've been quite busy during the past several months since our arrival in this ETO and just haven't gotten to it. The Herald has been coming through regularly and I am indeed grateful to you for furnishing an evening's reading and opportunity to catch up on local happenings, and to follow the activities of my friends all over the world.

"I'm at a fighter station which is really distinguishing itself against the enemy. Our missions have been remarkably successful day after day. I'm in administrative work, necessary of course, but deserved credit goes ONLY to those boys who go upstairs each day to face Jerry and make him pay, bloodily, for the deeds he has done. "The English have all been extremely cordial to us, making our operations a success. Spring has come here and the country is lovely."

His new address is Capt. L. B. Lee, 0-561490, APO 637, c/o P. M., New York, N. Y.

From England comes word of Wilbert Grandt of Arlington Heights.

"Still in the best of health. Had quite a week last week with plenty of work night and day, very little sleep, plus plenty of rain and English mud to sleep in. But if it'll help the cause along, let's have a lot more.

"Had quite a distinguished visitor the other day. It was General Eisenhower. There's no need to say more, for everyone knows who he is, but it isn't everyone who gets to see him.

"Bet Arlington is beginning to look sick with even the married men going. Oh, well, one of these days we'll be back and then we'll blow the roof off the town."

His address is Pfc. Wilbert H. Grandt, 36372232, APO 28, c/o P. M., New York, N. Y.

Now in England is Walter Foslund of Mt. Prospect.

"Have recently arrived somewhere in England, so please change my address for the Herald. Keep that paper coming. It's great."

His address is Pfc. Walter Foslund, APO 90, c/o P. M., New York, N. Y.

So. Pacific

G. D. Boobyer of Palatine writes a short note from the South Pacific.

"See by the paper that they're still taking men from home. They appear to finish high school. Too bad about the town's second gold star. Hope all of us get home before there are many more of them."

His address is Pfc. G. D. Boobyer, USMC, c/o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

From the South Pacific comes word of George Sigler of Palatine. "Have just been thinking about what a nice place New Zealand was. The people there were very good to us and did their best to make it seem like home to us. Keep that Enterprise coming. It's great."

His address is Sgt. George D. Sigler, 36047493, APO 25, c/o P. M., San Francisco, Calif.

Louisiana

Paul J. Kreft, husband of Charlotte P. Kreft of 120 N. Elmwood avenue, Palatine, has been promoted from the grade of private to that of Technician Fifth Grade at the Engineer Unit Training Center, an Army Service Forces installation commanded by Col. Holland L. Robb at Camp Claiborne, Louisiana.

At the time of his promotion T/5 Kreft was serving in the 748th Engineer Base Equipment Company under the command of 1st Peter Bell. The Engineer Unit Training Center is the largest single concentration of Engineer troops in the nation.

Egg, soot, catsup, paint in King Neptune salad

Writing from LOK is Leighton Mangels of Palatine.

"I guess I'll come under the categories of the 'Lord only knows' and as a matter of fact truer words were never spoken because Lord only knows where I am. It's quite a bit different than driving along in a car and being able to keep your bearings, but out here one wave looks just like another.

"We're having as good a trip as can be expected in these times and under present conditions. We get two meals a day which seemed insufficient at first, but now are quite adequate because of the lack of physical exertion. Reason for this is that there isn't time to prepare any more meals in one day. The meals are very good and I'm sure Uncle Sam loaded nothing but the best for us.

"I wish I could tell you more about the ship, but I guess that will have to wait until we arrive at our destination. It is permissible for me to mention, however, that we passed through the Panama Canal. It is a wonderful sight and if there is a more remarkable piece of engineering I'd like to see it.

Crosses equator

"Crossing of the Equator was celebrated in the traditional manner when all of us landlubbers became shellbacks through the benevolence of old King Neptune who with his curvaceous queen, Davy Jones, and his nautical knaves boarded this craft.

"It was no light pledge the troops made to the ancient sea god—they meant it. Each of us had already suffered a sea change and had learned to like the sea when smooth and to lump it when lumpy.

"Each unit sent a representative before the old monarch and his piratical court to accept the initiation for his outfit. They were clothed in nothing more than the traditional G. I. shorts. Then upon their heads was mixed a marine salad consisting of eggs, soot, grapefruit, flour horseradish, tomato catsup and red paint, to say nothing of quantities of sea water, that would turn the stomach of an ordinary landlubber.

"Our laundry system seems to be the most unique I've ever seen. All that is needed is a good, long, stout rope—tie on your dirty laundry and throw it overboard, remembering, of course, to take a couple of good half hitches to the rail. No soap, no rubbing is required. Leave it there in the waves for about an hour and you've got a fresh suit of clothes.

"Trying to figure out the time of day, or even what day it is after you've crossed the international date line provides quite a discussion. It's one of those occasions when day after tomorrow becomes tomorrow and day before yesterday becomes yesterday, and yesterday does or doesn't exist . . . oh, well.

"Like all the others overseas I'm getting very anxious to get some mail from home and, of course, the Palatine Enterprise. Perhaps I'll find someone from home in the vicinity of our destination. It's been several weeks since I've had any mail at all. Best wishes for a Happy Easter."

His address is Lt. L. J. Mangels, 0-387632, APO 31-B, c/o P. M., San Francisco, Calif.
